LETTER WRITING.

Points to consider when writing letters.

Write your address/writer's address at the top right hand corner; end each line of the address with a comma, except the last line, which ends in a full stop. Do not put your name above your address.

- a). Skip one line and write date under the writer's address. There are different ways of doing this, but it is usually written as –day –month–year.
- b). Begin the letter with Dear ____, (don't forget the comma). There is, however, no standard method of writing the final greeting- in a friendly letter. One may write Dearest Arthur or Dear Agnes etc.
- c). Such a letter may end with yours affectionately, best wishes, with love, yours ever loving friend, your loving daughter, yours ever, yours etc...
- d). You may not need to sign a friendly letter as the case with a formal letter. Write only the first in lower case letters.

NOTE: Official Letters.

The letter begins with Dear sir/ madam because the writer does not know the gender of the addressee.

N.B. (a) If you know the gender, write either Dear Sir, or Dear Madam. If you are writing to more than one man of a particular or certain company, write Dear Mrs. Kasibante and Mawaggali.

The letter has a heading – the subject written about. This heading is usually underlined. The heading starts with Re: which means reference.

The body of the letter should:

- (a). Have independent paragraphs with short, but meaningful sentences.
- (b). Be well punctuated and each point in a sentence should have a supporting sentence.

The letter should have a closing sentence called a conclusion. This must be in its own paragraph after the body. e.g.

- (a) I shall be pleased if my request/ apology is accepted.
- (b) I shall be very grateful if my application is considered.

The letter ends with “yours faithfully or yours truly” when the greeting was Dear Sir/ Madam.

The letter ends with “yours sincerely” if the greetings had Dear Mr/Mrs/Ms/ Miss.....

The letter is signed and in addition, the sender’s name is printed clearly under the signature.

COMPREHENSION [DIALOGUE]

Read the dialogue and, in full sentences, answer questions that follow.

Omony: Good morning, Bangi. You seem to be in a hurry. Where are you going this Monday morning?

Bangi: I am going to the police station. The Local Council officials arrested Mrs. Kapere last night.

Omony: Why was she arrested?

Bangi: The villagers say that she always mistreats her daughters. She beats and starves them every day. I want to find out how the police are going to handle the case.

Omony: That is a serious matter. She should know that it is a crime to mistreat children.

Bangi: It is unbelievable how cruel some parents and guardians can be. They punish their own children in such a cruel way. Other parents don't even send their children to school.

Omony: I will come with you. I want to know what action will be taken against her.

Bangi: In case she is found guilty, she may be sentenced to some years in jail. That will be a lesson for parents who don't respect the rights of children.

Questions

COMPREHENSION (POETRY)

Read the poem and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

Fight for your rights,
A child is any person,
Below the age of eighteen.
A child's rights means what,
A child must have to help in
His/ her proper growth and development.

Fight for your rights!
Like children of other countries,
A child in Uganda should,
Have the same rights,
Regardless of sex, religion, custom,
Rural or urban background, nationality,
Tribes, race and marital status of parents.

Fight for your rights!
Children's rights include:
The right to grow up in a peaceful environment,
The right to a basic education,
The right to medicare,
The right to a name and identity,
To mention but a few.

There are children in homes,
Whose lives are but sad stories,
Whose stories are never told,
Whose voices are never heard
Whose songs are never sung!

Fight for your rights!
However, these rights go with responsibilities,
Some children think they can do or have,
Anything they want in life.
Children should help their parents,
Do any piece of work given
To them even at school.
Not of any harm,
Must this work be to a child!

Questions

1. According to the poem, who is a child?
2. What is the poem about?
3. Why are children's rights important?
4. Must children's religion be considered when giving them their rights?
5. Give any two children's rights listed in the poem.
6. How many stanzas does the poem have?
7. According to the poem, what is not heard?
8. Which piece of work must children do?
9. Write any word that rhymes with peace in the poem.
10. Suggest a suitable title for the poem.

COMPREHENSION (PASSAGE)

Read the story and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

The following is a true story, written by Pamela.

Sometimes in 1995, I was sleeping in a hut with my grandmother. There was some noise in the compound. The door was forced open and torchlight flashed in my face.

Four men pulled me out of my bed. My grandmother pleaded with them to leave me since I was still young and an orphan. I struggled with them and tried to bite one of them, but he gave me a strong blow on the back of my head as they pulled me outside. In the compound, there were already a number of other children tied tightly together with sisal ropes around their waists.

I was given a load of groundnuts to carry with the warning that if it fell down, I would be killed. The following day, I was given mortar shells tied in a piece of cloth to carry. They were very heavy. I also feared that they might explode at any time. At this time, there was a man with a gun following me and watching me closely so that I didn't throw the shells. This quite frightened me. Two young girls caught attempting to escape were brought near us and chopped into small pieces by other children who were ordered to do so. The two girls cried in pain and pleaded for mercy as they were being chopped, but their cries were not considered.

As it approached evening time on the second day of my abduction we were walking in a single file; it was getting dark and rain clouds were starting to gather with thunder and lightning. I slid off the line and hid in an abandoned house near where we were passing. Luckily, the adult rebel in our group was still behind me but did not see me.

In the morning, I tried to retrace my way back home through the bushes. In the jungle I was alone, hungry and thirsty, with nothing to eat. For three days I was lost. I fed on wild fruits and I drank stagnant water. I was eventually escorted home by some kind people I met on the road.

Questions

1. When was Pamela sleeping?
2. How many men pulled Pamela out of her bed?
3. Why did the grandmother plead with the men to leave Pamela?
4. How had other children been tied?
5. What was Pamela told to carry on the first day?

MUTEBIRE’S FARM.

READ THE DIALOGUE.

Balinda: Welcome back, Eddie.

Edward: Thank you.

Balinda: Were you able to get some milk?

Edward: Yes, I was, but it was not very easy.

Balinda: Not very easy, why?

Edward: Mutebire’s dogs were at the farm gate barking fiercely.

Balinda: Why doesn’t Mutebire lock up his dogs in the kennel?

Edward: Well, he says that his fierce dogs help to protect the animals on his farm from being attacked by wild animals.

Balinda: Does he really keep many domestic animals?

Edward: I think so. saw a kennel, a sty, a byre, a stable and a few cages in his compound.

Balinda: Mutebire and his wife must be always busy looking after all those animals. In fact,I think the dogs help the to protect the animals from thieves as well.

Edward: Oh, yes. No thief would dare face those dogs. They are very fierce.

ANIMAL VOICES.

Here we are at the farmer's farm,
Happily suckling our calves,
On the warm fresh milk from our teats,
Some flowing to the farmer's heart,
Who takes some of the milk,
The farmer takes care of us day by day,
As we feed on the rich pasture daily.

We stay with our friends,
The sheep bleat with their lambs,
The pigs grunt in the sty,
Piglets squeal nearby,
Nanny goats bleat with their kids,
Billy goats bleat with their kin,
As the goatherd takes them to the hills to graze.

Life is not always easy, you know,
For the farmer selects us one by one,
To the abattoir the farmer herds us,
Slaughters us and cuts us into pieces
For beef, mutton or pork,
To feed on and grow healthy,
After which we are soon forgotten.

Questions:

- 1.Which animals do you think suckle their calves?
- 2.What does the farmer get from the animals kept on a farm?
- 3.What name is given to meat from sheep?
- 4.When is life not good for the animals kept on a farm?
- 5.What do you understand by the word abattoir?
- 6.Name some of the animals kept on this farm
- 7.What is the food nutrient of beef and mutton
- 8.What do you understand by the word 'graze'?
- 9.How do farmers select the animals according to the poem?
- 10.What bleat with their kids?

POETRY

Cry the youth, cry for nature,
Life has been destroyed,
Farms, buildings and roads,
Have replaced nature.

Rich forests that once covered the land,
Are green no more, no more food!
Erosion, pollution, degradation,
And destruction are the effects.

The value in nature,
Flora for grazers and browsers,
Fauna for meat and tourism for nation,
All sacrificed in the name of “ development”.

The flora and the fauna,
Are no more,
Meaningful life will soon end,
Fellow Ugandans, let's conserve the environment by planting more trees!
For without the environment, we shall cease,
To receive rain in Uganda.

Passage reading

The water hyacinth is a green vegetation which grows on water. It is able to cover a wide area on the lake. It is a great hazard to fishermen because of the snakes which enjoy floating on the plant. The hyacinth hampers transport by boat and ferry.

One journalist, at one time, wrote this: “ Everywhere the weed prospers, mosquitoes and water borne diseases multiply in the stagnant shallow water. Transportation stalls; distances of a few kilometres across the lake become epic journeys.

Today, we are happy to see different Organisations “fighting” the weed. Parseleto Kantai, a correspondent with the East African paper met Professor Joseph Odyambo of Lake Victoria Environment Management.

In the programme had on 24th July 2002, the correspondent reported, “ We have managed to reduce the water weed significantly. Governments reacted at varying speeds. The Ugandans were the quickest off the mark, declaring war on the water hyacinth and throwing everything at it. They employed mechanical harvesters to shred and remove it. They introduced beetles to suffocate it. They also toyed briefly with the idea of spraying the lake with chemicals.

Questions

1. Where does the water hyacinth grow?
2. What happens when the water-weed grows on water?
3. Why is the hyacinth a hazard to fishermen?
4. Which correspondent reported in the East African paper?

When to have Marriage

Once upon a time.....

A young girl barely fifteen years of age,
From sunset to sunrise,
Became the talk of Busaalwa Village,
Because of her stunning beauty.

Men wanted to marry her right away,
Boys knew that the dream was far away,
She is still very young, parents said,
She was sent to school, the parents paid.

The young girl, two years later,
Had grown big, humble and more beautiful,
Marry the girl off, many thought,
Men proposed, the parents still opposed,
No, Nekesa is still young, the parents said again,
Let her complete her studies,
After that, we can bargain.

Years went by, now she had turned twenty,
Men could hardly wait, suitors were plenty,
Parents insisted, educating our girl comes first,
The whole village can't marry me, Nekesa knew,
Men who can keep their promise,
And be patient are few.

The wedding day was a feast in Busaakwa Village,
From far and near, people came to witness,
As Nekesa said in her own voice "I do".
Mukuye too replied, "I do" and that was a seal,
Holy matrimony is more than just a deal.

Ever since that memorable day in January,
Nekesa and Mukuye have kept their vows,
For seven long years, day by day,
To care and respect each other,
For good, for worse, in poverty and wealth.

Seven long years down the road,

Two beautiful kids everybody loves to hold,
A warm home, where visitors are welcome,
Marriage is about patience, tolerance, forgiving and sharing.

COMPREHENSION (PASSAGE)

Marriage

Marriage is a legal relationship between the husband and wife. One has to be mature in order to maintain a family.

It is therefore recommended for one to marry at the age of eighteen and above in Uganda.

People marry to get companions and to produce children who continue the family lineage. Children can also help their parents when they become old.

In Uganda, there are three types of marriage. These are: religious, civil and customary marriages. Religious marriages are based on one's belief and faith. It can be Christian, Muslim or Hindu. All these carry out weddings either in churches, mosques or temples.

In customary marriage, the families of both the man and the woman have to reach an agreement. Bride price is accepted as the value of the bride and without it, marriage is not legal. Registration of the marriage can be done at the sub – country headquarters.

If it is a civil marriage, the district representative performs the ceremony after the spouses have fulfilled the requirements by law. These include being eighteen or above and with the parents' consent. The notice of marriage should be put on notice boards three weeks before the wedding. It should take place during the day i.e. between 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. Like with the other marriages, both the husband and the wife, two witnesses and representatives from the districts should sign certificates.

COMPREHENSION

Read the poem below and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

Isabirye died,
When he was only thirty – two,
And full of pride,
Like a cyclist on ride,
Hiding the hands,
Off the bicycle,
With the teeth in the air.

Isabirye died,
Causing his eighty-year old mother,
To mourn and weep,
Neighbours also wept,
As if they had been paid to do so.

Isabirye died,
Death cause by AIDS,
Transmitted to him through blood transfusion,
The widow surviving by four children,
Three daughters and one son.
Let's join hands and wipe – out the deadly- cancer, AIDS.
By Ronnie Mukwaya .K.

AIDS Prevention and Transmission.

The late Philly Bongole Lutaya's composition on AIDS "Alone and Frightened".

Presenter: Dear listeners, tonight am interviewing Dr. Kamagu of Mulago Hospital to discuss the prevention and transmission of the killer disease, AIDS. As you are fully aware, AIDS has claimed the lives of both old and young in many parts of the world. I hope Dr. Kamagu will be able to answer some of our questions tonight. Dr. Kamagu, most listeners don't understand much about AIDS. Can you tell them briefly what AIDS is?

Dr. Kamagu: AIDS stands for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, where Acquired means to get from other people, Immune means protected, Deficiency means lack of, or insufficient and "Syndrome" a number of symptoms appearing together.

Presenter: Can you please tell us in simple terms exactly what you mean, Doctor?

Dr. Kamagu: AIDS is caused by the HIV virus, which is passed between people having unprotected sex when one of the partner is infected with the virus. You can also get it when you are given infected blood during blood transfusion, by using unsterilised piercing instruments for tattoos or ear piercing, or using unsterilized needles for injections.

Presenter: I understand some have the virus, but do not look sick. How would one know if someone is HIV positive?

Dr. Kamagu: Yes, it is true that infected people can appear completely healthy, and therefore can pass the virus to their sexual partners without knowing it. To avoid getting the virus, you need to make sure that you and your sexual partner have had an HIV blood test before starting a sexual relationship.

Presenter: Doctor, you have explained the commonest way through which someone can acquire it, but what about babies who have it?

Dr. Kamagu: Babies get the virus from their mothers. If the mother has the AIDS virus in her blood, she can pass it on to the unborn baby. An infected mother who breastfeeds may also transmit the AIDS virus to her child.

Presenter: Dear listeners, we have only a few minutes left before the end of the programme, but perhaps Dr.Kamagu can tell us how we can avoid this deadly disease.

Dr. Kamagu: This is not easy to answer but the first thing to remember is that if one is married, one should stick to one's marriage partner; i.e. Avoid poaching outside legal marriage.

Presenter: But Dr. Kamagu, I am quite sure you are aware that some men have many wives

Dr. Kamagu: Dear listeners, if a man has many marriage partners, all these people can be safe as long as the husbands and the wives do not have sex with other people outside the marriage. Secondly, people who hope to marry or get married should both have HIV blood test before having unprotected sex. Remember, some people look healthy when they are already infected. Don't take the risk.

Presenter: Doctor, there are lots of adverts on TV's and radios about having safe and protected sex by using condoms. What's your advice about this?

Dr. Kamagu: It's true that there are lots of adverts on the media about safe and protected sex, but people should not believe that condoms are 100% safe. Using condoms just lowers the chances of contracting AIDS, but people should still take care.

Presenter: Well listeners, we've come to the end of our programme on the prevention and transmission of AIDS. Please tune in next week, same day, same time for yet another discussion on health matters. Good night.

Music: "Alone and frightened."

COMPREHENSION 1

Read the following passage and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

A radio is also known as the wireless. It is a machine that is used to send and receive programme broadcasts to the public through sound waves.

The radio was invented by a man called Marconi in the year 1912. The invention of the radio brought the people in the world closer to each other. Spoken words could be heard thousands of kilometres away. The ideas of great men, songs of great singers and speeches of important statesmen could reach every home which owned a radio set.

Compared to the situation twenty year ago, today many homes, both in urban and rural areas have radio sets. There are different types, shapes, sizes and colours of radio sets. Some radios use electricity, while others use cells or batteries.

The radio has been improved upon over the years. Many radio sets have a cassette part where tapes can be played. Radio sets which have cassette players are able to use compact tapes that have recorded music or any other information. Some radio sets have disc players. What is special about these complex sets is that they have special buttons to play, stop, forward, rewind, record and eject the tapes and discs with recorded messages. When you have a radio set, you are able to listen to different radio programmes such as news bulletins, pop and traditional music, education, politics, current affairs, sports, religion, talk shows, children's programmes, announcements and advertisements. A radio, therefore, plays a big part in people's lives.

Passage Reading

School holidays

Children from all types of schools break off for their holidays when the term has ended. Students in institutions of higher learning also go for holidays. When our parents and guardians get “leave” from work, they spend more time at home because they are on holidays.

When the children of Hare and Leopard got holidays, each of them made up his mind to have it at his granny’s home.

One day, Hare’s son who had stayed with his granny for two weeks, decided to pay a visit to his friend, Leopard’s son having walked for a long time, Hare’s son rested a bit under the shade because it was shining too much. After two hours of rest, Hare’s son continued with his journey till he reached his destiny.

On reaching the Leopard’s home, Hare’s son called out “buddy-buddy!” No response anywhere. So, Hare’s son thought nobody was in. He bravely entered and met leopard’s two young one lying beside their mothers bed. Without wasting time, Hare’s son put the young ones in his bag and walked away in a reverse form.

On leaving the house, Hare’s son encountered Leopard at the entrance. Leopard smelt a rat on seeing Hare’s son carrying a bag, which looked heavy. Leopard welcomed him, but asked him what he was carrying. Clever Hare said he had brought something from them market and decided to visit them briefly. Clever Hare requested to leave immediately. Leopard let him go without checking the bag. Hare’s son took the young ones of the Leopard and ate them with his mother.

POETRY

We the youth
Proud we are today
For tomorrow is ours
We are the leaders
To take decisions
Decisions of our time, tomorrow

Wake up fellow youth!
Prepare now for the great task
Work hard at your class work,
Be disciplined, oh youth!
For people to respect us
And entrust us with tomorrow

Keep healthy, oh youth!
Say no to diseases,
Reject drugs and bad company.
Remember the Almighty, oh youth,
The source of strength and wisdom
Our guide to success, tomorrow.

PASSAGE READING

“School concert at Kivvulu”

My name is Bitama Edwin I am in P7 at Kivulu Primary School. Our school usually holds functions such as speech day, sports day, open days, parents’ days, education week and concerts. On such days parents and other invited guests visit the school to see the pupils’ work.

Last year, our school organized an end of year concert. All pupils were encouraged to take part in various activities. The activities included songs, poems, plays, speeches and dances. Every class was supposed to present at least two items. The teachers were responsible for helping the pupils in their rehearsals. We rehearsed for a month.

When all was ready, the head teacher sent invitation letters to the parents. The concert was held on the last Saturday of term 3. Very many parents attended. The schoolteachers and prefects welcomed the parents. The programme for the concert which took place at Did’s world Kasanga read as follows.

11:00a.m- Pupils assemble in the main hall

11:10a.m- Arrival of the invited guests.

12:10pm- Arrival of the chief guest

12:15pm –Singing of the national and school anthems.

12:30pm – Concert begins (reciting poems, western choral singing, traditional folk songs, creative dance, traditional dances and other activities)

3:20 pm- Head girl’s speech

3:30 pm -Head teacher’s speech

4:00 pm -Trophy and certificate presentation

Masaka.

4th January, 2013

Dear Mother,

How are you? This is just to let you know that I arrived safely at school on Monday.

The taxi driver dropped us right at school. Thank you for accompanying me to the taxi park. The taxi broker tied our luggage very securely and nothing fell off on my way.

Thank you for the provision that you bought for me. The shoes and stockings make me look like a real boarding school student. The eats you gave me have helped me to get a lot of friends. Even “the bullies” have not troubled me. I am a “useful newcomer”. The roast ground nuts, popularly known here as Busolo, go very fast especially during tea breaks and just before lights go out.

I have found here a few of my former schoolmates who have also joined this school. Cousin Keeya and Mukiibi, who is Mr. Semakula’s son, are here. We have formed a working group of three. Unfortunately, my best friend Kayoga didn’t pass the Primary 5 end of year examinations well enough to get into boarding school. I was reliably told that he has joined a day school in Kampala!

We haven’t done any very serious class work yet. We met our class teacher yesterday. He told us we had to work very hard. We shall have to study subjects like Biology, Chemistry, Physics, instead of merely Science. We gave in the pay-in- slips to the bursar and we got our stationery and school uniform. We also cleaned the dormitories and the compound.

Once again I thank you and father for all that you’ve done to get me into this very good school. I promise I’ll study hard and I won’t let you down.

Greetings to sister Nalubowa and aunt Nakintu,

Your affectionate son,
Fred

Writing a friendly / personal letter.

When it's written: when one is writing to a friend or a relative.

Points to consider when writing personal letters.

- a). Write your address/writer's address at the top right hand corner; end each line of the address with a comma, except the last line, which ends in a full stop. Do not put your name above your address.
- b). Skip one line and write date under the writer's address. There are different ways of doing this, but it is usually written as –day –month–year.
- c). Begin the letter with Dear ____, (don't forget the comma). There is, however, no standard method of writing the final greeting- in a friendly letter. One may write Dearest Arthur or Dear Agnes etc.
- d). Such a letter may end with yours affectionately, best wishes, with love, yours ever loving friend, your loving daughter, yours ever, yours etc...
- e). You may not need to sign a friendly letter as the case with a formal letter. Write only the first in lower case letters.

The Headmistress,
Kitante S.S,
P.O. Box 7102,
Kampala.

Dear Madam,

Re: Admission to Senior One

I wish to apply for a place in S.1 of your school this year.

I am a male Ugandan aged fourteen years. I sat the Primary Leaving Examination last year and obtained the following results:

Subject	Results
English language	3
Mathematics	2
Science	3
Social studies	4
Total aggregates	12
Division	1(ONE)

In addition to my academic performance, I am very good at music, drama, pottery and storytelling. Throughout my primary education, I have tried to put Otubo Primary School on the Ugandan map.

For further information, madam, I refer you to the head master, Otubo P.S.

I shall be grateful if my application is considered.

Yours faithfully,
Martin Okware
MARTIN OKWARE

The letter begins with Dear sir/ madam because the writer does not know the gender of the addressee.

N.B. (a) If you know the gender, write either Dear Sir, or Dear Madam. If you are writing to more than one man of a particular or certain company, write Dear Mrs. Kasibante and Mawaggali.

The letter has a heading – the subject written about. This heading is usually underlined. The heading starts with Re: which means reference.

The body of the letter should:

- (a). Have independent paragraphs with short, but meaningful sentences.
- (b). Be well punctuated and each point in a sentence should have a supporting sentence.

The letter should have a closing sentence called a conclusion. This must be in its own paragraph after the body. e.g.

- (a) I shall be pleased if my request/ apology is accepted.
- (b) I shall be very grateful if my application is considered.

The letter ends with “yours faithfully or yours truly” when the greeting was Dear Sir/ Madam.

The letter ends with “yours sincerely” if the greetings had Dear Mr/Mrs/Ms/ Miss.....

The letter is signed and in addition, the sender’s name is printed clearly under the signature.

Dear Charles,

Let me take this opportunity to write to you about our school sports day. It was on 10th December 2012 I won both the 400 meter –race and high jump competition in intermediate group. My dad and mum were watching. You can imagine how nice it was for me and proud my parents were!

We had practised for this event for three months. We were therefore fit for it. The master of ceremonies was Mr. Benz, our teacher of English. He made the ceremony so exciting because of the way he commented on the events.

The house in the last position was Red with 180 points. The 2nd last Yellow with 240 points. The second was blue with 340 points and my house, Green emerged winner and took the trophy with 400 points. We got a lot of gifts. The chief guest Mr. Kadomala promised to give us a bull. We shall go on a trip to lake Mburo National Park. The games master is the chief organizer of the trip. The music department will entertain us at the bull roasting function. Mr. Maddu, our L.C III chairperson will be the guest of honour.

I am writing to invite you to this party. It will take place on the last Saturday of the term. Please, let me know whether you will attend or not.

Your friend,
Ronald

Poetry

Poem reading

Road accidents! Road accidents!
Road accidents here, and road accidents there.
East to west, north to south
On every road they frequently occur
Cries and cries are everywhere
Sweeping across the whole country.

The sources of information in the country
All the radios and the televisions,
All the newspapers we read
Cover the same sad news
People are confused !

I suggest to all the pedestrians:
Be careful while crossing the roads.
To you the cyclists and motorists.
Stop speeding everywhere
It is the root cause of suffering.

Therefore, ladies and gentlemen,
The young and the old.
Boys and girls, Let us join hands,
To wipe-out this road cancer.

PASSAGE READING
“BUILDING A POLICE POST”

Buloba, Buyala and Bujuuko are neighboring villages a long Kampala- Mityana Road. The three villages are surrounded by Mpanga Forest and River Mayanja. Residents in this area grow vegetables and keep animals for sale. There are some organized groups of farmers who work together on one piece of land.

Last year there were complaints that thieves broke into people’s houses and stole property like chickens, rabbits and goats. There were reports on school dropouts and idlers who would play cards all day long. The boys and girls who had dropped out of school would tease the school children on their way to and from school. In one village meeting, one man said that he, at one time, saw a leopard chasing a rabbit. Those who knew of his `` night activities “did not believe him, of course.

The residents finally decided to build a police post. This was not a small project, so, residents had to look for assistance from as many well-wishers and local authorities as they could approach. In one local council meeting, a big - headed youth, Mubbi, poured cold water the idea of building a police post. He mentioned only disadvantages of keeping police guards around. The residents were not convinced with the kind of reasons he gave. Those who had attended the meeting pledged to do the following:

- | | |
|-------------------------|-------------------------------|
| -Mr. Mukodo | - a plot of land |
| - Youth club | - making bricks |
| - Buyala church | - cement and poles |
| - School leavers | - collecting water and bricks |
| - Members Bujuko church | - 20 iron sheets |
| - Members Buloba mosque | - shutters |

A building committee of six people was formed. The committee was chaired by Mr. Mazima, famous church leader, and an architect by profession.

A few days later, the committee started working on the project. In barely two months , the police post was inaugurated by the District Police Commander who was also the guest of honour. She donated furniture and stationery. She deployed six police officers at the new police post

Two weeks later, it was reported in the local newspaper that thieves who had long been terrorising the area residents had perhaps moved to other areas.

POETRY

Here they come again
To fill people with anxiety
And fill opportunists with happiness.
The electorate finds it hard
To decide who to elect.

When zebi promises to end poverty
Fulu promises to end load shedding
While asana promises free education for all
But they have one thing in common.
They are fond of telling lies.

I was amazed in campaign meeting
When Mr. Weri promised a bridge
Where there's no river
Where as Mr. Biiso pledged
To make all Ugandans rich

But when will this madness end?
So that we can have peace of mind
This dream will come true one day
If almighty guides all Ugandans
Towards electing the right leaders.

Passage Reading
School holidays

Children from all types of schools break off for their holidays when the term has ended. Students in institutions of higher learning also go for holidays. When our parents and guardians get “leave” from work, they spend more time at home because they are on holidays.

When the children of Hare and Leopard got holidays, each of them made up his mind to have it at his granny’s home.

One day, Hare’s son who had stayed with his granny for two weeks, decided to pay a visit to his friend, Leopard’s son having walked for a long time, Hare’s son rested a bit under the shade because it was shining too much. After two hours of rest, Hare’s son continued with his journey till he reached his destiny .

On reaching the Leopard’s home, Hare’s son called out “buddy-buddy!” No response anywhere. So, Hare’s son thought nobody was in. He bravely entered and met leopard’s two young one lying beside their mothers bed. Without wasting time, Hare’s son put the young ones in his bag and walked away in a reverse form.

On leaving the house, Hare’s son encountered Leopard at the entrance. Leopard smelt a rat on seeing Hare’s son carrying a bag, which looked heavy. Leopard welcomed him, but asked him what he was carrying. Clever Hare said he had brought something from them market and decided to visit them briefly. Clever Hare requested to leave immediately. Leopard let him go without checking the bag. Hare’s son took the young ones of the Leopard and ate them with his mother.

Ganda

Arts and Crafts.

The Ganda people are famous for their beautiful craftwork. They make mats and baskets – with many different designs. Mats and screens, which they use to decorate their houses are woven and plaited, or sewn in patterns of black on a pale yellow background. Their shields are made from wood, hides and canes, then covered with straw, or painted in black or a natural colour. Ganda drums are often decorated with knittings, or have coloured beads and shells sewn on them.

The best example of Kigandan architecture is the great court – house of Muteesa I at Kasubi. The palace, built in 1882, is the largest grass thatched building in the country. The king chose this site at Kasubi because it overlooked the main roads to every part of his Kingdom. The palace was built facing west so that the palace guards could see easily any hostile army approaching from the Kingdom of Bunyoro, with whom the Baganda were then at war.

The main entrance at the palace is a hut, which was once manned day and night by the palace guards. Behind this, is a small courtyard with another small hut, which housed the royal drums. The palace itself, which is 15 metres in diameter, is made from poles, reeds and grass. It was built by many different clans, each of which had a particular task to do. For example, the thatching was done by the Colobus monkey clan, and the decoration by the Leopard clan.

Inside the court – house, large posts support the great roof. The huge rings inside the roof are made from palm leaves, which were carefully beaten to make them bend easily, then tied together. The king by tradition laid the first three rings of the roof, then every clan added another according to their hereditary order.

Today, the great court – house houses the graves of the last four kings of Buganda. They lie in front of a curtain of bark cloth, behind which is a chamber, known as Kibira or forest, where special secret ceremonies are still performed.

Reading a friendly letter

Matale Primary School,
P.O. Box 202,
Masaka.

4th January, 2003

Dear Mother,

How are you? This is just to let you know that I arrived safely at school on Monday. The taxi driver dropped us right at school. Thank you for accompanying me to the taxi park. The taxi broker tied our luggage very securely and nothing fell off on my way.

Thank you for the provision that you bought for me. The shoes and stockings make me look like a real boarding school student. The eats you gave me have helped me to get a lot of friends. Even “the bullies” have not troubled me. I am a “useful newcomer”. The roast ground nuts, popularly known here as Busolo, go very fast especially during tea breaks and just before lights go out.

I have found here a few of my former schoolmates who have also joined this school. Cousin Keeya and Mukiibi, who is Mr. Semakula’s son, are here. We have formed a working group of three. Unfortunately, my best friend Kayoga didn’t pass the Primary 5 end of year examinations well enough to get into boarding school. I was reliably told that he has joined a day school in Kampala!

We haven’t done any very serious class work yet. We met our class teacher yesterday. He told us we had to work very hard. We shall have to study subjects like Biology, Chemistry, Physics, instead of merely Science. We gave in the pay-in- slips to the bursar and we got our stationery and school uniform. We also cleaned the dormitories and the compound.

Once again I thank you and father for all that you’ve done to get me into this very good school. I promise I’ll study hard and I won’t let you down.

Greetings to sister Nalubowa and aunt Nakintu,

Your affectionate son,
Fred

Writing a friendly / personal letter.

When it's written: when one is writing to a friend or a relative.

Points to consider when writing personal letters.

- f). Write your address/writer's address at the top right hand corner; end each line of the address with a comma, except the last line, which ends in a full stop. Do not put your name above your address.
- g). Skip one line and write date under the writer's address. There are different ways of doing this, but it is usually written as –day –month–year.
- h). Begin the letter with Dear ____, (don't forget the comma). There is, however, no standard method of writing the final greeting- in a friendly letter. One may write Dearest Arthur or Dear Agnes etc.
- i). Such a letter may end with yours affectionately, best wishes, with love, yours ever loving friend, your loving daughter, yours ever, yours etc...
- j). You may not need to sign a friendly letter as the case with a formal letter. Write only the first in lower case letters.

Dear Madam,
Re: Admission to Senior One

I wish to apply for a place in S.1 of your school this year.

I am a male Ugandan aged fourteen years. I sat the Primary Leaving Examination last year and obtained the following results:

Subject	Results
English language	3
Mathematics	2
Science	3
Social studies	4
Total aggregates	12
Division	1(ONE)

In addition to my academic performance, I am very good at music, drama, pottery and storytelling. Throughout my primary education, I have tried to put Otubo Primary School on the Ugandan map.

For further information, madam, I refer you to the head master, Otubo P.S.
I shall be grateful if my application is considered.

Yours faithfully,
Martin Okware
MARTIN OKWARE

The letter begins with Dear sir/ madam because the writer does not know the gender of the addressee.
N.B. (a) If you know the gender, write either Dear Sir, or Dear Madam. If you are writing to more than one man of a particular or certain company, write Dear Mrs. Kasibante and Mawaggali.

The letter has a heading – the subject written about. This heading is usually underlined. The heading starts with Re: which means reference.

The body of the letter should:

- (a). Have independent paragraphs with short, but meaningful sentences.
- (b). Be well punctuated and each point in a sentence should have a supporting sentence.

The letter should have a closing sentence called a conclusion. This must be in its own paragraph after the body. e.g.

- (c) I shall be pleased if my request/ apology is accepted.
- (d) I shall be very grateful if my application is considered.

The letter ends with “yours faithfully or yours truly” when the greeting was Dear Sir/ Madam.
The letter ends with “yours sincerely” if the greetings had Dear Mr/Mrs/Ms/ Miss.....

The letter is signed and in addition, the sender’s name is printed clearly under the signature.

COMPREHENSION [DIALOGUE]

Read the dialogue and, in full sentences, answer questions that follow.

Omony: Good morning, Bangi. You seem to be in a hurry. Where are you going this Monday morning?

Bangi: I am going to the police station. The Local Council officials arrested Mrs. Kapere last night.

Omony: Why was she arrested?

Bangi: The villagers say that she always mistreats her daughters. She beats and starves them every day. I want to find out how the police are going to handle the case.

Omony: That is a serious matter. She should know that it is a crime to mistreat children.

Bangi: It is unbelievable how cruel some parents and guardians can be. They punish their own children in such a cruel way. Other parents don't even send their children to school.

Omony: I will come with you. I want to know what action will be taken against her.

Bangi: In case she is found guilty, she may be sentenced to some years in jail. That will be a lesson for parents who don't respect the rights of children.

COMPREHENSION (POETRY)

Read the poem and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

Fight for your rights,
A child is any person,
Below the age of eighteen.
A child's rights means what,
A child must have to help in
His/ her proper growth and development.

Fight for your rights!
Like children of other countries,
A child in Uganda should,
Have the same rights,
Regardless of sex, religion, custom,
Rural or urban background, nationality,
Tribes, race and marital status of parents.

Fight for your rights!
Children's rights include:
The right to grow up in a peaceful environment,
The right to a basic education,
The right to medicare,
The right to a name and identity,
To mention but a few.

There are children in homes,
Whose lives are but sad stories,
Whose stories are never told,
Whose voices are never heard
Whose songs are never sung!

Fight for your rights!
However, these rights go with responsibilities,
Some children think they can do or have,
Anything they want in life.
Children should help their parents,
Do any piece of work given
To them even at school.
But this work should not,
Be of any harm to his/ her health.

Questions

1. According to the poem, who is a child?
2. What is the poem about?
3. Why are children's rights important?
4. Must children's religion be considered when giving them their rights?
5. Give any two children's rights listed in the poem.
6. How many stanzas does the poem have?
7. According to the poem, what is not heard?
8. Which piece of work must children do?
9. Write any word that rhymes with peace in the poem.
10. Suggest a suitable title for the poem.

COMPREHENSION 1

Read the following passage and, in full sentences, answer all questions about it.

A radio is also known as the wireless. It is a machine that is used to send and receive programme broadcasts to the public through sound waves.

The radio was invented by a man called Marconi in the year 1912. The invention of the radio brought the people in the world closer to each other. Spoken words could be heard thousands of kilometres away. The ideas of great men, songs of great singers and speeches of important statesmen could reach every home which owned a radio set.

Compared to the situation twenty year ago, today many homes, both in urban and rural areas have radio sets. There are different types, shapes, sizes and colours of radio sets. Some radios use electricity, while others use cells or batteries.

The radio has been improved upon over the years. Many radio sets have a cassette part where tapes can be played. Radio sets which have cassette players are able to use compact tapes that have recorded music or any other information. Some radio sets have disc players. What is special about these complex sets is that they have special buttons to play, stop, forward, rewind, record and eject the tapes and discs with recorded messages. When you have a radio set, you are able to listen to different radio programmes such as news bulletins, pop and traditional music, education, politics, current affairs, sports, religion, talk shows, children's programmes, announcements and advertisements. A radio, therefore, plays a big part in people's lives.

a). radio b). battery

COMPREHENSION

Read the radio broadcast below as presented by Ignatius Tendo and use it to answer all questions about it.

Good evening listeners. This is Jinja Greater Radio on FM 106.5. The time is exactly 6:00 pm East African Standard Time. I am Ignatius Tendo presenting your popular programme "Sports News Special".

This is a programme that brings you highlights of local and international sports events.

Last Tuesday, Bugembe Football Stars beat Wairaka Young Lions seven goals to two, in an exciting match played at Bugembe Stadium. However, the match ended prematurely because spectators threw flying objects to one another. Many people were injured. Those critically injured were rushed to Jinja Hospital. Local Administration Police helped to prevent further chaos.

During the wrestling match, a sixty – year - old man, Kibuto, amazed everybody in Magamaga trading centre where a wrestling competition was staged over the weekend. He stunned the fans when he threw Kanyama off his feet.

In the women football league, Jinja Greater Radio has learnt that Iganga Women's Football Club will play against Kamuli Tough Ladies at Iganga Stadium. This will be in 20th February, 2002. Gateway Bus Company has offered free transport to all Kamuli Supporters.
